

Environmental Health and Sustainable Development Goals I · II

I 6 - 10 / June 2022
HU students Course Code 101530 / 1 credit

II 13 - 17 / June 2022
HU students Course Code 101531 / 1 credit

Venue (I · II): Faculty of Medicine, Central Research Build. 5F 5-1

In these courses, students will acquire knowledge about the environment and health in Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs); how each goal is connected and what research and initiatives are being undertaken to make it possible to achieve the goals.
The class includes lectures, group work and site visit (Subject to change depending on the status of COVID-19).

Atsuko IKEDA

Faculty of Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Taro YAMAUCHI

Faculty of Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Reiko KISHI

Center for Environmental and Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Kayo UEDA

Faculty of Medicine, Hokkaido University

Paul JAGALS

University of Queensland

Tsuyoshi KAWAKAMI

International Labor Organization

Chihiro MIYASHITA

Center for Environmental
and Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Hisahori FUKUNAGA

Faculty of Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Colleen LAU

University of Queensland

Kazuhiro TOYODA

Faculty of Environmental Earth Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Hien TT NGO

TangLong Universtiy

Le Thai HA

National Institute of Occupational and Environmental Health

Rahel Mesfin KETEMA

Faculty of Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Keiko YAMAZAKI

Center for Environmental and Health Sciences,
Hokkaido University

Organizer and Inquiry: Environmental Health Sciences Lab, Faculty of Health Sciences

PIC: Atsuko Ikeda [ehs-lab@hs.hokudai.ac.jp] / Rahel Mesfin Ketema [krachel@cehs.hokudai.ac.jp]

Co-organizer : Center for Environmental and Health Sciences, Hokkaido University
(WHO Collaborating Centre for Environmental Health and Prevention of Chemical Hazards)